

A Message From Brownie's Marine Group CEO During These Challenging Times

As we monitor and learn more about the spread of Coronavirus (COVID-19), we would like to offer the Brownie's community best wishes for your safety and that of your family during these challenging times.

With most of the world greatly affected by the COVID-19 virus, we want to extend Brownie's deep sense of community and widen our hope that we are all able to minimize the impact of these difficult days through sensible self-monitoring measures.

Although our factory and service departments will remain open for business, we deeply care for the safety and well-being of our employees and ask our community to please refrain from passing by for social visits and call in advance to schedule a purchase or to engage the service departments for:
