Reward Survey

We've started crafting our reward survey and will send it out after Kickstarter has released the funds – which should be within a week or two from now, we'll update you when the payment has dropped and we can really get this rolling! Expect the survey toward the end of October – this will be your chance to add any extras and even revive your pledge if you're one of the few “dropped backers” out there whose payment didn't go through – just send us a message letting us know.

Indiegogo

A second chance for friends and family to pre-order NEMO, saving hundreds before we launch at full retail price ($699).
