"We are excited to be back in Annapolis for these two great shows after they were cancelled in 2020 due to COVID. This is an opportunity to showcase our entire product line to a diverse group of boaters from all over the country. Not only will we be introducing BLU3's Nomad to the market, but also we will have the newest LW America's YachtPro65, a high pressure compressor that uses a home 110 volt outlet to power the compressor, fill your scuba tanks or any other high or low pressure air needs." Said Chris Constable, CEO of Brownie's Marine Group, Inc. "We are also looking forward to meeting with both power boat and sailboat social media influencers to help further promote our brands to these vast markets. Shows like these are key to connecting with a crucial part of our audience in areas outside of the warm waters of South Florida. We look to expand our dealer base for all of our product lines as well continue to promote and broaden our customer base."
